

Wood Outswing Sectional Recessed Standard Sill

Recessing the standard outswing sill exterior applications provides a minimal transition from inside to outside effective weather sealing. It is important that the exterior surface level is lower than the sill to enable water drainage from the sill. The sill is installed into the sub floor and allows the interior finish floor to be level with the interior sill stop. Please note net frame height will be measured from the exterior with.

